

MALAYSIA

Challenge poses for a developing nation

Nobody will miss the view of the Petronas Twin Towers in Kuala Lumpur. The twin towers, once the tallest building in the world, is right in the heart of the city centre. The towers were designed by Cesar Pelli to resemble the Islamic art motif and the structure consists of reinforced concrete with steel and glass façade.

Although an Islam country, Malaysians are free to believe in any religion – Buddhist, Hinduism, Christianity, etc. People of different races and beliefs live harmoniously within the community, with full respect for others' religion and celebration. One will be see people of different culture attending weddings, parties and festive gatherings of any individual.

The perfect harmony of the Malaysians proudly presents the Petronas Twin Towers to the world. Featured in international movies, cartoons, music videos and games, the Twin Peaks of Malaysia are also found in countries as far as Europe as a souvenir piece.

Benjamin Wong & Anne Ang, Designers

Clever designs fully utilizing the wide windows and mirrors to create space illusion for the rooms. We wanted to show that luxury living can be simple, warm and comfortable. Hunter Douglas Window Fashions provides full flexible solutions on light control and when the natural lights fills in the room, it also adds on colours.

Intelligent choice of furniture and Silhouette Window Shadings for an abundance of natural light shimmering through the windows.

Natural sunlight penetrating through the window shades, be it Duette Honeycomb Shades or Hunter Douglas Woods Blinds combine to create a beautiful effect among a small area.

Adds the spice of life into the bedroom – true combination of style and substance. Silhouette Window Shadings work perfectly to diffuse light into the room.

Comfortable bedroom suites furnished with Florette Privacy Sheers to create a sense of spaciousness.

Natural colour schemes and generous windows with simple Hunter Douglas Roller Shades for complete view and light.

Pink on pink - Pink coloured Florette Privacy Sheers, a complete colour match for a young girl's room.

Nothing says quality quite like solid wood – Hunter Douglas Woods Blinds fit perfectly in the piano room.